

The Senior Police Detective's guide

The Senior Police Detective must find his own way to keep track of the criminals planning, but here are some tips as to how it could be done.

1. The fast writer, simply jots down all the actions done by the criminals in list form.
2. The visualist, draws a plan of their own. Here is an example drawing where north direction has been noted, the heist starts at the west most parking space, then proceeding down/south breaking up a door, then going right/east to loot stuff, taking the right/east route around something, breaking up another door, looting stuff to the left/west, and finally taking the same route back to the waiting car.

3. The abbreviator, uses abbreviations in list form. Some examples:

N = North

E = East

S = South

W = West

Up = Up

Right = Rt

Down = Dn

Left = Lt

D = Door

P = Parking spot

AO = Around object

L = Loot/steal something / Sa = Steal safe

M = Most (Like West Most)

G = Go

BT = Back Track

The same plan as the visualist would be something like this:

P W M

G S D

G Rt L

G Rt L

G Dn AO D

BT
